Foreword

At the end of an extensive building and remodeling program, we feel it is only proper that this yearbook should be prepared with the purpose of giving all who read it a complete view of our fine new layout. It is especially fitting since this is the first school year in which all of the new facilities have been in use, and we believe it has been an exceptionally good year.

With this idea in mind, we are about to conduct you on a tour through the school, with members of the Red Key Service Club conveniently placed to guide you. We hope you will enjoy yourself, and that you will feel we are justified in having such pride in our school.

Dedication

The Class of 1953, speaking for the community of Le Roy, the students of our schools and the generations of youth to come, expresses its deep gratitude to MRS. EDITH H. WOODWARD for her vision and belief in youth which have resulted in the creation of the magnificent school park and recreation area now building. Not only did she conceive of the idea of reserving an area in the community for the health and education of youth, but through her splendid generosity provided the land and funds to make it possible. And the gift is received even more gladly when it is given with genuine modesty and a spirit of citizenship which should be an example to all.

We feel that it is particularly fitting, therefore, that this O-at-kan, which records the significant events of the Le Roy Central Schools in the year 1952-53, should be dedicated, with our deepest respect, to

MRS. EDITH H. WOODWARD
our Friend and Inspiration

MICHAEL LETKO

In Recognition

It is fitting that we should also give special recognition to a member of the faculty for they have been our guides and friends over the past four years. If we must single out one above all others, MR. LETKO, our science teacher and friend, is the logical choice. His wisdom, kindness and willingness to serve have been an inspiration to all of us during our high school careers.

The Board Determines School Policies

The members of our Board of Education are men to whom we owe the deepest gratitude for they are the foundation of our education here in Le Roy, and without them we would have little or no education at all. Their time and service are given willingly with no payment in return for this difficult job.

The men are chosen in an election by the townspeople. They establish the major policies of the school. They employ the members of the faculty and administration, arrange for maintenance of school buildings and grounds and the collection of funds by taxes to make the school possible. They must be always ready to solve problems which threaten our school. We know they are constantly at work looking for ways to improve the school and the education it gives. One of the finest examples of this is the recent addition of and improvements on school facilities. Without such willing and capable men on the Board this would never have been possible.

We know that our interests are their interests—that is what they are there for. Many of them have children of their own attending school, so they are representative of the parents of the community who want the best in education for their children. However, they are also the men of the community who are gifted with qualities which make them fit to do a good job. The recognition they receive is far too small for the great task they are attempting and, in every possible way, accomplishing.

MATTHEW W. GAFFNEY, Supt. of Schools

The Superintendent Directs Policies

This Oatkan marks another milestone in the process of children growing into adults in Le Roy. It records in pictures and words how all the people of the community have given of their time and their money in order that each member of the graduating class of 1953 may be better prepared to face the problems of being an adult in a free democratic society.

As the Board of Education, the Faculty, and the citizens welcome the members of the Class of '53 to the distinguished company of High School Graduates, it is with confidence that we now share with you the responsibilities of educating the children of the community. Children, who, in a few short years, will be your fellow citizens.

No man or woman lives alone in modern society. Our personal success or individual failure is closely bound with the level of intelligence and kind of education possessed by our neighbors. As you continue to support your schools, you, too will have a part in the most important job of a citizen in a democracy, determining through public education the kind of people with whom you will live the rest of your lives.

MATTHEW W. GAFFNEY

Although rarely seen and heard by most of the students, Mrs. Luttrell plays an important part in the school's function as Mr. Gaffney's secretary. She has been here since the day after she graduated from our Alma Mater in 1946. Her duties consist of more than just being Mr. Gaffney's secretary, for she is the acting clerk of the Board of Education and was collector of taxes this past year. Hats off to a wonderful secretary.

DONALD E. HORR, High School Principal

Principal Horr Guides the High School

In a very short time you will have completed twelve years of school and will be ready to take your places as adults in the community. It is our hope that during your years in school you have had an opportunity to learn and put into practice those ideas which will make you citizens of which everyone can be proud.

Over a period of years you have practiced democracy in your dealings with your school associates and now the time has come to carry these practices into wider fields of endeavor.

We have faith in you and in your ability to do a fine job and we are sure that you can say with pride and we will hear with pride in the years to come that you are a graduate of Le Roy High School.

DONALD E. HORR

Hardly a day of school goes by when we don't have business with Mr. Horr's pretty red-headed secretary, Miss Barbara Day. We may see her in the morning if we're late or later in the day if we happen to go into the office. Her job consists of keeping attendance records, typing, figuring averages, and innumerable other things. All of these keep Miss Day continually "on the go" but she's never too busy to give a friendly "hello" to everyone.

MARY E. MERWIN, ROBERT M. COLE

Pictured above are the Home Ec. and Ag. teachers, both very important to the school. MR. COLE, who is a stern man in first period study hall, has received excellent success with his budding "Future Farmers", mainly by this same strictness. A comparative newcomer to L. H. S. is MISS MARY MERWIN, who in the past semester, became intimately acquainted with many of the Le Roy students, among these students were the senior boys.

KATHLEEN HARROLD, WILLIAM T. LANE

Among the familiar figures in the L. H. S. halls are those of the fine arts teachers, Miss HARROLD and Mr. LANE. In her several years at Le Roy, MISS HARROLD has aided many young artists to an encouraging start and perhaps someday one of her Le Roy pupils will become another DaVinci. MR. LANE is now completing his fourth year in our music department, and since he's rolled up his sleeves and taken over the musical organizations he has kept things jumping. 1952-53 has brought much fame to both MR. LANE and the L. H. S. musicians.

The Faculty teaches, directs, guides . . .

For our citizenship education teachers, we have three exservicemen. MR. FITCH, like MR. BABCOCK, is a past Army man. He is very capable of handling the seventh and eighth graders, who at times are a lot to handle. MR. BABCOCK, the pride and joy of the football team, teaches sophomores and juniors their history. Last in the line up, but only in height, is our retired Marine, MR. TAGGART, who gives freshmen their first taste of high school, and the seniors, their last.

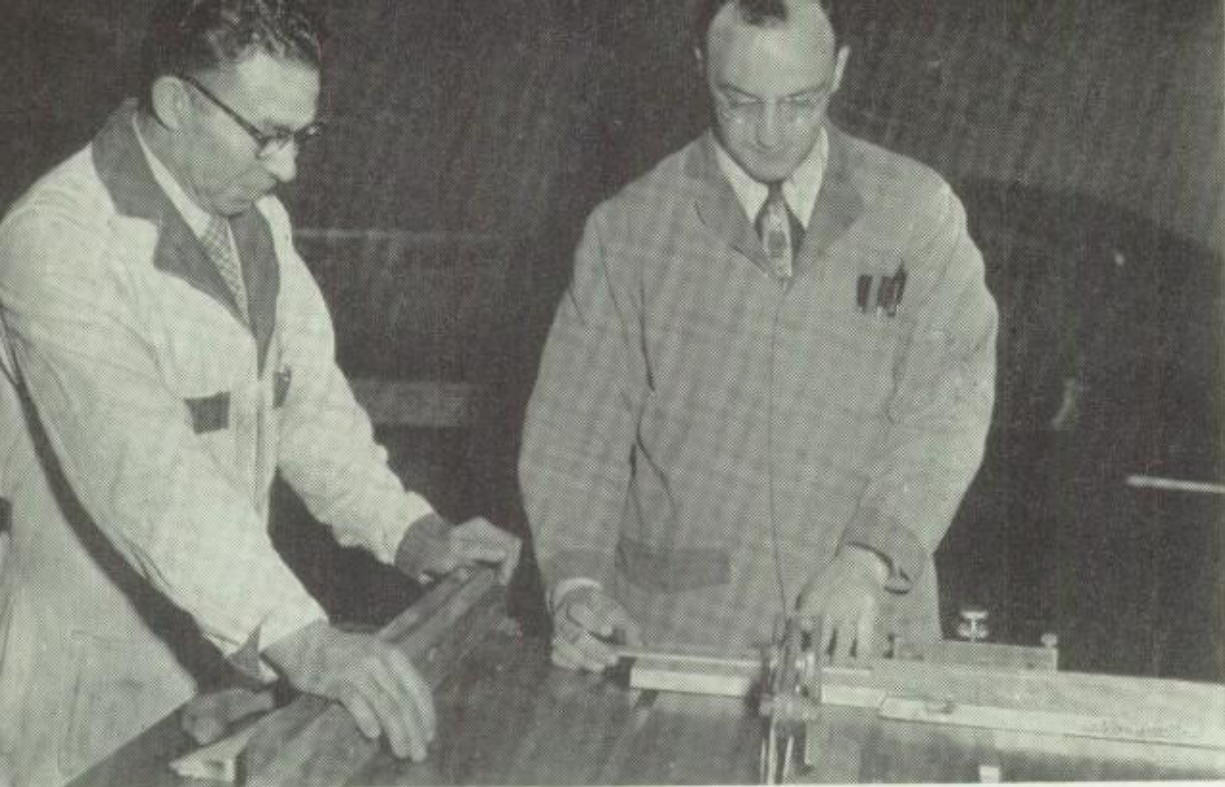

FREDERICK G. TAGGART, VERNON F. BABCOCK, RICHARD E. FITCH

In the commercial department of our school, two charming young ladies are in reign. MRS. WILLIAMEE, the more experienced of the two, has taught several present secretaries the fundamentals of the trade, and let's hope she continues to do so at Le Roy. The new addition to the business section is Nazareth College graduate MISS MARTHA MORAN. Besides MISS MORAN's regular duties with her typing and shorthand classes, she helps advise the seniors, a very distinguishing position.

MARTHA MORAN, MARY JO WILLIAMEE

JOSEPH A. MANGEFRIDA, ROBERT P. VAN DEUSEN

Our future carpenters are learning the basics of the trade from Mr. MANGEFRIDA. Those frequent loud sounds from the shop are usually under his direction. Mr. VAN DEUSEN helps him out by taking over the 8th grade shop classes. The latter also has the large job of teaching Driver Education. This course is fairly new and there is a long waiting list of people eager to get their hands on the wheel.

IRMA DEVOE, WILLIAM J. KELLY

Peppy Miss DEVOE, an experienced teacher at Le Roy, now has the job of teaching English Literature to the Junior High students. The other part of English, just as important as literature, is grammar and spelling. These are taught to both the seventh and eighth grades by newcomer Mr. KELLY, a quiet person who seems to be just the one to make normally uninterested Junior Highers learn the technicalities of our language.

disciplines, counsels and inspires

The job of teaching English to Senior High students is handled by three capable teachers. They also have extra jobs besides their heavy English schedules. With his spontaneous witticisms, Mr. McROBERTS urged budding orators through the Larkin Contest and Senior Play. The Sophomore Speakers were coached by the indispensable Mrs. BALMER. The two school publications were the extra headache of Mr. CAHILL, a grand person who did every thing in his power to make them the success they were.

WALTER C. MCROBERTS, IVY BALMER, KEVIN T. CAHILL

If you've ever heard the students going around the halls speaking a strange language you can be sure they learned it from Mrs. RUSSELL or Mr. BARONE. For the past four years Mr. BARONE, also our broad-shouldered J. V. coach, has taught the muchachos and muchachas of Le Roy to speak Spanish. Mrs. RUSSELL, besides teaching the Latin scholars, has spent a great deal of time on O-at-kan photography and her sharp camera eye has been endlessly useful.

SALVATORE W. BARONE, MARIAN K. RUSSELL

HELEN E. BERNARD, EVELYN H. FORTMILLER, JAMES R. PERRONE

DOROTHY J. DOUGAN, FRANCIS J. LONGHINI

The math wizards of L. H. S. are Miss BERNARD, Miss FORTMILLER, and Mr. PERRONE. Miss BERNARD, a tall and very pretty mathematician, drills the seventh and eighth grades. Quiet, gentle Miss FORTMILLER and alert, aggressive Mr. PERRONE, though using very different tactics, both managed to drum some higher mathematics through the brains of confused Senior High students, although sometimes it was so puzzling it was even hard to remember what two and two added up to.

The budding athletes of the Le Roy Central Schools are kept well in hand by Miss DOUGAN and Mr. LONGHINI. Miss DOUGAN manages to remain cheerful and understanding in spite of her many duties with girls intramurals, playdays, and G. A. A. Mr. LONGHINI has been here for two years as Varsity basketball coach. Those of us who came in late will remember him standing at his post with the tardy book in his hand.

us during our high school years

The science-minded students of L. H. S. are taught by Mr. GANGI, Mr. KURTH and Mr. LETKO. Mr. KURTH, who can usually be seen scurrying down the hall, is a newcomer who teaches Junior Hi sciences. General science, biology and health are taught by fatherly Mr. LETKO. Newcomer Mr. GANGI, who always has a wise word, is in charge of physics and chemistry.

MRS. CASEY has been Le Roy Central Schools' Dental Hygienist for twenty-six years. She graduated from the University of Rochester Dental Dispensary and did graduate work at the University of Buffalo.

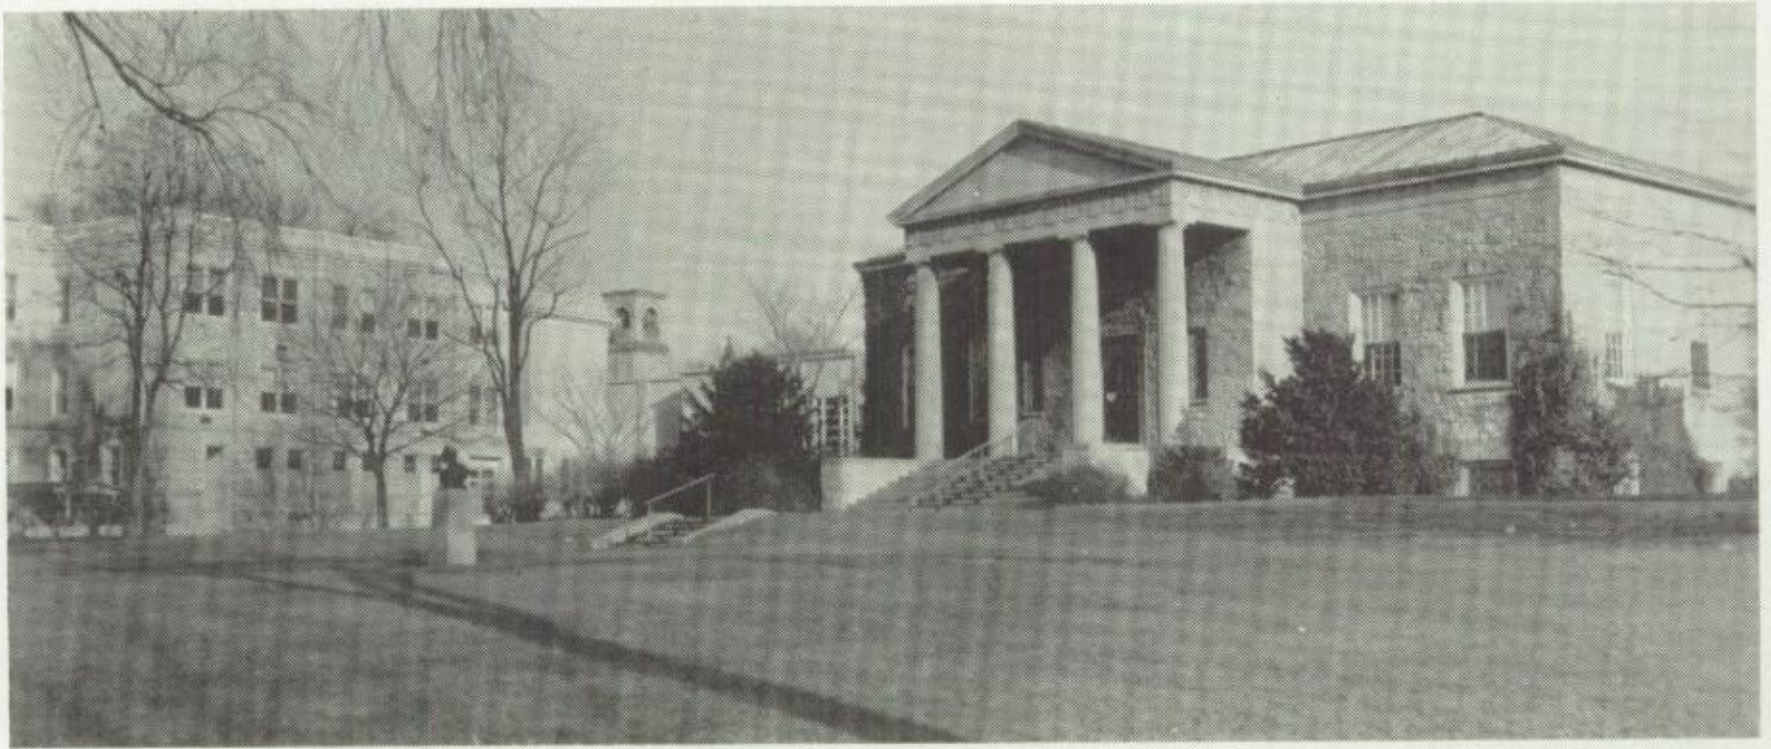

MRS. CASEY is enjoying this school year for she has new quarters in the high school which are very pleasant and roomy. Everyone is grateful to her for taking such good care of our teeth up through the years.

The Woodward Memorial Library was given to the people of Le Roy and placed in the trusteeship of the Union Free School District No. 1, in memory of Orator F. and Cora T. Woodward by their children. It is both a public and a school library and also contains facilities for group meetings. Few schools of any size have library facilities that compare to ours either in the number and quality of books available or in the frequency with which new books are purchased. A large room in the building has been remodeled this year to serve as a children's reading room and library.

The Seniors Unite for Successful Year

Four short years ago, the class of '53 started on its high school career. Now we have ended our senior year.

Under the leadership of Mr. Taggart, Miss Moran, and Miss Merwin, we elected Joe Ianita as class president.

We started off with selling food at the football games. The cold didn't dampen our spirits and we had hardly finished this project when we started our paper drive.

For a day and a half, seniors could be seen going into almost every house in Le Roy, appearing again in a few minutes with their arms full of papers. With the cooperation of the people of the community, our drive was a successful financial project.

A little later the girls of the Senior class challenged the boys to a dance. On December 12th, the night of the girls' dance, the gym was packed. The boys, having hard competition ahead of them, set their dance for the weekend of the County Music Festival in April.

Another contest was set up to sell tickets for the Senior Play. While all the seniors were out selling tickets, our more dramatic pupils were hard at work learning parts and attending rehearsals. Janice Hewes and Sam Leadley copped the leading roles in G. B. Shaw's play, "Pygmalion". On the night of the play we found another success on our hands.

March 5th marked the night of our Spaghetti Supper, a success because of the cooperation of all the seniors. After our supper we had a little party exclusively for the class.

Another big event, the Senior Ball, was set for April 10th. It proved to be the biggest success a Senior Ball has ever been.

So now with the completion of our high school days, while we are looking ahead toward the future, we are constantly reminded of the wonderful, incomparable days we spent at L. H. S.

A tour through the school without a look into the classrooms in action would be neglecting the heart of the school. Here poise and oral expression are taught in Mr. McRoberts' speech class (left), the world of science opens to us in chemistry (center), and the mysteries of mathematics are expounded by Mr. Perrone (right).

The bobbing of curls and a gay disposition all adds up to Chippy Antinore. Francis Ashley is a nice fellow to talk to and will always be remembered for his friendly smile. Our witty jokester, Mimi Baglio, is a whiz at the keyboard and especially good at "Bumble Boogie". Henry Barbeau is a great fellow to know and one with lots of school spirit. Dick Bliler says little, but we know he is a wonderful fellow without a care in the world. A quiet girl, but one who is fun to know when you get to know her is Joan Blood. Betty Bossart will always be remembered as the cheery little girl with the laughing eyes.

A hard-working basketball player is Jack Bradbury, who looks like he stepped out of some girls dream. We'll always remember Barbara Brandes' friendly way of speaking. The sweetheart of the class is Barbara Brodie, whose cute looks and pep added so much to the cheerleading squad. Bill Brown, our cameraman, made even camera-shy people enjoy having their pictures taken by his friendly, quiet manner. Charles Burr ought to get a long way with that curly hair! Who could forget that cute blond, Louise Byers, whose wonderful personality and numerous abilities helped out in so many ways. Martha Carr is one of those persons who seem to be just bubbling over with pep and enthusiasm. That the life of a senior is a busy one is certain. That the life of a senior is a wonderful one is just as certain. Whether it's toasting fingers along with hot dogs at football games, shouting out more orders at the spaghetti supper, or staggering under loads on the paper drive, there's something that makes seniors stick together, and even if the days do become never-ending whirl-winds, if everyone's together in it, nothing could be more fun.

This is a sample of the variety of activities available. The National Honor Society Clothing drive (top) guarantees warmth for some Koreans; a spaghetti supper (2nd from top) raises funds and feeds the village. Ashley, Brown, and Mooney (2nd from bottom) work in the projection room preparing for an assembly; the whole school reaps the benefit of a dance sponsored by the senior girls.

Junior Prom Heads

With the election of Sid Smith as president early last fall, the Junior class has completed one of its most successful years. Other officers were Judd Crocker; vice-president; Rita Sheffer, secretary; and Gloria Nichols, treasurer. The class was well represented in Student Council by Barb Durney, Romey Lachnicht, and Grace Ann Symonds.

The class worked together diligently for the Junior Frolic and their efforts were well rewarded. It proved to be a great financial success and a good time was had by all. We chose Valentine's Day for our theme and danced to the music of the Texas Rangers.

Big profits were added to our treasury from the baked food sale held in the former Le Roy Mart Shop. Everyone brought something and everything sold like hotcakes. We were also in charge of several check-rooms and dances during the basketball season. This added to our treasury funds.

The boys and girls well represent the class in sports. Ed Englerth, Sid Smith, Terry Shefflin, Bob Morris, and Ray Leach are members of the varsity basketball squad. Most of the juniors who participated in basketball also were on the football squad. Elinor Mogavero and Ginger De Graw have helped cheer the team to victories. The girls have participated in numerous sports activities and some have even gone to county playdays.

There are many juniors represented in the music department, both in band and chorus. There are eight members in band and about thirty members in chorus.

We regret that we are leaving our junior year and all the good times behind us, but we are looking forward to becoming seniors next year.

Lathan, Durney and Lytle prepare an advertising campaign for a junior baked food sale.

Sophomores Achieve

In September, we, the little freshmen of last year, became the big sophomores of this year. Not only did we feel big but we did everything in a big way.

In order to run our class well, it was necessary to elect officers. We chose Jack Fiorito, President; Daniel Miller, Vice-President; Marlene Kunego, Secretary; and Sylvia Mancuso, Treasurer. Mrs. Russell and Mr. Babcock were given the task of guiding us along.

Our major money making project of the year was selling refreshments at the basketball games. Instead of selling ice cream as had been planned, we sold hot dogs, sandwiches, and hot chocolate. To our delight we made "barrels of money" on this project.

The sophomore dance "Flunkers Frolic" was held on January 23, so the students could have a rest after a long week of exams. The dancing was round and square with music by Whitney's Old Time Masters.

Financial Success

The Sophomore class was well represented in boys' and girls' sports, band, choruses and various school clubs. Lucille Vinci, Veronica Corcimiglia, Rose Steffenella, Esther Hutchinson, and Phyllis Hubbard did a grand job of keeping our school spirit up on the junior varsity cheerleading squad.

Our class has budding public speakers, also. There were six contestants in the Sophomore Speaking Contest this year — Elinore O'Shea, Carol Curtis, Eleanor Wolcott, Beverly Passmore, Marlene Kunego, and Marie Argana. The contest was under the direction of Mrs. Balmer and Edward Battaglia was the chairman.

As all good things must end, so our sophomore year must end. We are looking forward to next year, hoping to have as much fun and get as much accomplished as we did this year.

The Sophomore Class sell refreshments at basketball games to augment their treasury.

Frosh Begin Their

We, the Class of '56, have made our footsteps echo along the first year of our high school education. We found we were responsible for setting good examples for future Freshmen to look up to and try to surpass. It wasn't easy, but we had some wonderful times trying.

Our year began with the election of officers. We put the responsibility on Joseph Frank, President; David Frost, Vice-President; Ann Metcalf, Secretary; and Sam Tabone, Treasurer.

This was our first money-making year, and, determined to make the most of it and get off to a good start, we took the job of selling candy, pop and other refreshments at basketball games. In doing this we had fun and made a large profit.

Our next project was to sponsor our first dance. Our round-and-square "Spring Mardi-Gras", with music by the Twilight Rangers, was a big success. We felt quite proud of our decorations, which were considered the best of the year.

High School Life

During this Freshman year we have learned many things. As the saying goes, "Experience is the best teacher." We owe much of our success to our advisors, Mr. Letko and Mr. Barone, who did as much for us as experience. We are confident that throughout the rest of our high school career we will try to continue to work together and do as well as we have done this year.

The freshman class also made its presence felt in sports and other activities. We placed members on all the j.v. teams and on the j.v. cheerleading squad. In addition we helped swell the numbers of the music organizations and spoke out in Student Council. We feel that for the first time we are making a real contribution to high school life.

Decorations Win for

The class of 1957 is on its way capably led by the following slate of officers: President, David Griffith; Vice-President, Gloria Englerth; Secretary and Treasurer, Sandra Baker; Advisors, Miss DeVoe and Mr. Van Deusen. Our representatives for Student Council are Allan Cohen, room 109; Sam Maloni, room 110; Sandra Scott, room 122; Fred Mangefrida, representative at large.

Our year's activities began with a skating party. It was a most successful outing and we were delighted to learn some fancy skating steps from Mr. Kelly.

We repeated our victory of last year by again winning first prize for our Christmas decorations, this time in Miss DeVoe's room.

We planned two guidance assemblies; one, a very successful Friday the 13th program. Paul Boylan gave a clever skit showing what to expect on that unlucky day. We thoroughly enjoyed the beautiful slides which Mrs. Russell showed us.

Eighth Grade

Several junior high students gave histories of our three cadets, Mrs. Mowers, Mr. Nash and Mr. Shilling.

The other assembly was unusual. Ed Fiorito, Jim Antinore and Roger Rogers competed in a tall tale contest. Roger won and was presented with a certificate and a silver cup which proved he was the biggest liar in the eighth grade. Quite an honor! Prizes were also given for the best posters promoting the sale of the O-at-kan. First prize was won by Barbara Clark, second by Jane Bossart and third by Mary Mastin. Karen Hutchinson received honorable mention. Miss Bernard sang the beautiful song, "When Irish Eyes are Smiling".

We are very proud of our beautiful school and are looking forward with great anticipation to our freshman days.

The Seventh Grade

On September 3, 1952 95 of last year's sixth graders walked through the portals of L. H. S. for the first time as students of this school. To us the high school was a new adventure and the beginning of a new era in our lives. We were taking our very first steps on the path of adulthood. Never had we been so bewildered, and never had we found it so easy to become lost. There were few of us who got to all of the right classes that first day and the next day was much the same. It all seemed quite glamorous, but soon that wore off, because we were put to work and found that being a new seventh-grader was no easy task.

When we became a little more settled in our new school, we elected the following class officers: Donald Pursel, president; Roger Graney, vice president; Douglas Fiero, Representative at large; Barbar Carli, Raymond Ianello, and Thomas Schlonski as homeroom presidents.

Throughout the school year, certain activities have been arranged for our enjoyment as well as for our social development. In the fall and spring, the 7th and 8th graders had a combined roller skating party. These parties are well attended with much enthusiasm.

Other activities which we of the 7th grade are proud of are the Junior High Guidance Assembly programs. These programs provide us with an opportunity to display our skills in planning, organizing, and presenting programs for our fellow students.

Room decorating at Christmas time is lots of fun. This year we were proud to be placed third in the competition between rooms.

Last, which is one of the most exciting activities, is the Junior High Night. It is usually held in May. This program gives us another opportunity to show our talents. At this time we perform for our parents and friends.

Seventh graders act as color guard during a junior high assembly program.

RACHEL DRAYO; HORACE B. MYERS, Principal

Principal Myers Guides the Grade School

We are very proud of the resources of the educational plant which have been erected on our campus by the citizens of Le Roy.

We are more proud of the hope represented by the human resources of the Class of 1953, for buildings decay but ideas and our heritage live on in the hearts of men and women.

HORACE B. MYERS

DR. GRANEY

"It's time for school physicals again." Time to go and see a person who has been connected with the Le Roy Schools for almost 40 years. I imagine there is no one in school who regrets having a physical as it gives them a chance to see one of the nicest doctors any of us will meet. Yes, Dr. Graney certainly is wonderful to all of us, and after we've touched our toes and said "aaah" he always has a witty remark to say to us. Our hats are off to Dr. Graney for the splendid job he is doing.

Music

MISS ERICKSON

Miss Erickson has been with us since 1930, four of these years being spent in the Wolcott Street School. She had, previous to 1950, been vocal director at both schools. She teaches singing and string instruments. Singing is a required course, by the way.

She has orgaized a grade school orchestra, consisting of about thirty students.

Now the music program is moving at a fast pace, and all of the children enjoy music very much.

Nurse

MISS SMITH

Someone has a cut finger again, and it's off to the grade school and the nurse's office. Examining the many minor injuries that happen every day must be a very tiring job, but it doesn't seem to phase Miss Smith, for she always has an encouraging smile and a helpful word for each new patient. And when something major does happen, it's encouraging to know we have such an efficient and well-trained person around.

Art

MISS DISPENZA

Miss Dispenza has been teaching art in the Wolcott Street School for the past four years. Art is a regular course, taught once, and in some cases, twice a week. The children enjoy art and do a variety of things, from water-coloring to ordinary drawing. Before Miss Dispenza came there was no regular art teacher, so we can say that she is the first teacher of art in grades 1-6. A good addition to W. S. S.!

Student Council Governs Student Functions

Standing: Mr. Horr, Miss Bernard, Mr. Kelly.

Nancy Frost.

The student government of our school is arranged in such a way as to give every student in the school an equal say in the government. When the organization was first started, the constitutions from each of the different school groups were brought together and bonded into one large constitution for the use of the Student Council.

Under this constitution, it is stated that this organization should be called the Le Roy High School Student Association. Some of the duties of this association are to direct the extra curricular activities of the student body; to maintain and develop school spirit; and to provide opportunities for the students to practice citizenship. The council shall charter extra curricular clubs and organizations, determine schedules of meetings, plan student conducted assemblies and many more such duties. The main purpose of the council though, is to improve the school in every way possible. It holds dances, decides on the school songs and much more. It, in general, is the governing body. Every student receives many privileges as the result of Student Council but they also have their responsibilities to the school. If a student disagrees with any of the topics discussed he has the right to voice his opinion. The council is arranged in such a way as to give each and every student an opportunity to have his own ideas brought up before the student body.

The Student Association consists of the president, vice-president, secretary, and the treasurer of the Association and also of the members of the Student Council. These members are made up of six students from each class, since the grades seven through twelve are equally represented the total membership of the organization is thirty-six. These members are elected at the beginning of the school year by each of the respective classes. In the seventh and eighth grades for example, their representatives consist of the president, and vice-president of each of their three homerooms making up six for each class mentioned above. In the grades 9, 10, and 11 the representatives are made up of the president and vice-president of the class, one representative from each of three homerooms and one representative at large. The senior representative is similar except for the fact that the other four, excluding the class officers, are all chosen from the one large homeroom. It is the job of all these representatives to bring up at the council meetings any business which their respective class would like done. Every class activity must be passed by a majority of the student council members before it can go into effect. The privilege of voting is confined only

The meeting will come to order! Under the capable leadership of Dan Mooney the representatives to Student Council met every Tuesday to plan projects, pass laws, and discuss other important business which helped to make this year's student government effective and efficient. The recording secretary is Nancy Frost.

"For an efficient Student Council vote for Cal and Romey"; "Make a lucky strike with Sid and Grace Ann"; "It's Pat for Vice-President". These are some of the slogans used in the elections of Student Council officers. The victors of this important election were Sidney Smith, President, and Jerome Lachnicht, Vice-President. to the previously named thirty-six, but any student may attend the meeting and present his or her viewpoint.

The President and vice-president of Student Council are elected in the spring of the previous year. They do not take office however until the following September. The system of electing these officers is similar to the one used by our national government. In the latter part of March two conventions are held to choose the candidates for the election. The entire student body is divided equally with half going to the gymnasium and the other half going to the auditorium. The candidates for nomination who will have already been signed up are also divided into each convention. From each of these conventions will be picked a president and a vice-presidential candidate. For the next week or any length of time as designated by the council, candidates shall campaign within the school for their offices. The final bit of campaigning shall come in the assembly which is held the day before the election. At the election the voting is done on the town voting machine and the results are held for the publication of our school paper, The Red and Black.

O-at-kan pictures school year and

With pencils in hand, brains scrambling and faces looking blank, the staffs of the 1953 O-at-kan began work in the fall. Now the pencils are worn to stubs, the brains are even more scrambled and the faces are drooping, but they certainly can no longer be called blank, for what has been learned through the production of this book is worth a lifetime of teaching.

Once the layout was done, there were pictures to schedule and take, articles to write, sometimes at a moment's notice, ads to collect, orders to take, and typing to do. Much of the advertising and circulation was done in business classes, but of course out-of-class work never ceased. One wonderful improvement on our equipment was the addition of our own camera. It took a while to get used to it, and many hours of developing before the final products were finished, but the experience gained and the money saved proved it immeasurably worthwhile.

If it had not been for Mr. Cahill, our tireless adviser, we would probably be no farther than we were when we started, for who else could have taught us so much in such a short time? The efforts of Mrs. Williamee, circulation adviser, Miss Moran, advertising adviser, and Mrs. Russell, photography adviser, were also invaluable parts in the machinery of the year-book.

Our purpose has been to give the students and the community a book of which they can be proud, and to which they can return when the memories of high school life have become a trifle faded and thin. In our armchair tour of the school we have tried to include something from every phase of its busy life. We hope we have succeeded in creating a lasting impression that can never be driven away.

The publication at Le Roy, The Red and Black and The O-at-kan, are both under the advisorship of Mr. Cahill, English and journalism teacher. The editorships are traditionally held by seniors who are interested in making some form of journalism their vocation. Pictured at left are Henry Barbeau, Editor-in-chief of the paper, Mr. Cahill, and Louise Byers, Editor-in-chief of the O-at-kan.

Deadline time brings about furious activity in Room 209 as all members of the staff rush last minute news and business to the editorial desks. Pictured at right are editors, Dorothy Anchor and Henry Barbeau, front; business stalwarts, Janice Hewes and Joyce Traxler, center rear; typists, Rose V. Antinore and Eleanor Eppolito right. Standing are photographer Fred Trumbore and sports editor Charles Drayo.

It was agreed that those students who wished to take journalism as their English enrichment course would become the "Red and Black" staff for this 1952-53 school year. As a result of an election within the class Henry Barbeau was chosen Editor with Dorothy Anchor and Joyce Traxler as Managing Editor and Business Manager, respectively.

In January the enrichment courses changed and our staff left the journalism class. This left work on the paper to be done independently either outside of school or during study periods. Publication still continued, which proved that the staff enjoyed its work immensely. Mr. Cahill was available for help when the going became tough, as it certainly did when important news became scarce.

A majority of the staff was green, but everyone caught on quickly and enjoyed it. Therefore, each one became interested and skillful in his own department. We of the staff have tried to put out a good school paper, for the spirit of the school paper often reflects the spirit of the school. It has been more fun than work for us, and we hope our readers have enjoyed reading it as much as we have enjoyed writing it.

Honor Society Stresses High Ideals

The Le Roy Chapter of the National Honor Society of 1952-53 got its start in the spring of 1952 when six juniors—Barbara Brodie, Louise Byers, Nancy Clark, Joe Ianita, John Jenner and Sam Leadley—were initiated. When school opened in the Fall officers were elected and Sam Leadley became President, Joe Ianita, Vice-President, Nancy Clark, Secretary and Louise Byers, Treasurer. Miss Fortmiller continued as the always willing advisor.

The members' first action as a whole was their fall initiation. Speeches and a most impressive ceremony were presented as part of initiating William Brown, Jack Bradbury, Patricia Letson, Sylvia Matthews, Daniel Mooney, Joyce Traxler and Mary Trumbore.

Soon posters blossomed to advertise a clothing drive. The result of the three-day campaign was 750 lbs. of clothing collected from students and packed by the society for the Save the Children Federation.

During the year the Society made several trips to Rochester for entertainment. At Christmastime they caroled at the County Old Folks' Home. It is in doing things such as the latter that the members have their real reward for having worked hard to be able to join the society.

Nancy Clark (right) has an average of 91.5% to become the class salutatorian. Nancy also has been very active during her high school career, especially in the musical organizations, dramatics, public speaking and athletics.

Students in Service Club Aid School

The Service Club is for all students in grades 7-12 who are interested in helping the school. The Club was organized two years ago in place of the Red Key Society to allow more students to participate. It provides workers for the basketball games, running the movie machine, riding the grade school buses and working in the cafeteria. At the end of the year, red keys are awarded to members of the Service Club who have made a contribution of time and effort to serve the school and other students.

Upperclassmen Orate in Larkin Contest

The annual Larkin Speaking Contest, open to juniors and seniors, was held on Friday, May 22, in our auditorium. It was organized differently this year, for the Speech class was required to participate, but other students might, if they desired.

There were two contests, a boys and girls. Contestants and their topics in the boys contest were Jack Bradbury, "Future of Teenagers," William Brown, "Vandalism," Joseph Ianita, "Educational Television," Daniel Mooney, "What's Wrong With Teenagers," and Lewis Steverson, "The New York State Thruway." Girls participating were Marie Baglio, "Main Street in Le Roy," Marlene Englerth, "Cerebral Palsy," Marion Hyde, "Giving to Polio Fund," Sylvia Matthews, "Genesee County Sales Tax," Janice Shepard, "Problems of the Old," and Joyce Traxler, "Giving of Blood," all speech class members. Others were: Patricia Barbeau, "History of Le Roy," Madonna McBurney, "Juvenile Delinquency," and Lorraine Scott, "Driver Training." The chairman for both contests was Robert Fanning.

Prizes are made possible from a trust fund of Thomas W. Larkin. The contest was under the direction of Walter McRoberts.

and Sophs hold their own competition

The annual Sophomore Speaking Contest, the eighteenth of its kind held here in Le Roy, was held in the Woodward Memorial Library on Friday evening, March 20th. This year the participants, unlike those of former years, had the speeches. Although this greatly added to the challenge offered it attracted the interest of six of our sophomore students.

These students could be found for two months preceding the contest feverishly preparing for it under the guidance of Mrs. Ivy M. Balmer, who is in charge of the contest every year. On the fateful night, Beverly Passmore, with her speech, "Light Means Life", won the top prize. Carol Curtis, with "Ingham University," took second place. Both girls received the traditional gold pins.

The other participants and their subjects were: Elinor O'Shea, "We, the Teenagers of Today"; Eleanor Wolcott, "There's Music in the Air"; Marlene Kunego, "Four Gifts"; Marie Argana, "The Field of Insulin". These girls also received silver pins.

Edward Battaglia presided over the contest. The judges were Mrs. R. Vincent March, Mrs. Gilbert Jordan, and Mrs. Russell Iannello. The rating of the speeches was based fifty percent on content and fifty percent on delivery.

This contest, which keeps the people of today interested in the ancient art of oratory, is made possible yearly by a trust fund set up by the late Thomas W. Larkin.

F. F. A.

The Future Farmers of America is a national organization of boys enrolled in vocational agriculture. Its primary aim is agricultural leadership, cooperation and citizenship. The F. F. A. has regular meetings once a month and special meetings when necessary. The activities of the F. F. A. this year included the operation of the school farm and sponsoring a ham supper.

Education Continues

A. V. Club

The fifteen-member Audio-Visual Club was formed in the fall of 1951 to provide student operations for audio-visual equipment and give the students opportunities to assume responsibility. The club is open to anyone in grades 7-12 and meets on Mondays with Mr. Kurth.

Rifle Club

One of the newly organized clubs this year is the Rifle Club. It is under the supervision of Mr. Taggart, an experienced rifleman. The members meet every Monday afternoon in the basement of the gym.

This club hopes to succeed in teaching the members how to handle fire arms safely.

Photography Club

The Photography Club was organized this year by Mrs. Russell to help in the photography department of the O-at-kan. It is composed of six members. The club helped out considerably and some of the club members learned the operation of the school camera and are ready to carry on next year.

F. H. A.

The Future Homemakers of America is an organization for girls studying home economics. This year, under the able guidance of Miss Merwin, the F. H. A. sponsored a dance, put on a supper, received their charter as a member of the National F. H. A. and took on other projects preparing the girls for homemaking.

Outside Classrooms

Radio Club

The Radio Club was organized two years ago for the purpose of familiarizing members with electrical and radio theory. To increase interest, a radio construction kit is used. Membership is restricted only by individual interest. At present seven members are planning to construct a "color-adding" instrument.

Stage Crew

The Stage Crew, under the direction and supervision of Mr. McRoberts, is responsible for all of the stage craft which is necessary in the presentation of the many and varied activities which take place in our grand new auditorium. Any high school boy may join the organization at any time in his school career.

Commercial Club

Commercial Club, a fairly recent organization, was set up in January by the Shorthand II class. Its membership consists of Juniors and Seniors who have taken two business subjects. A tureen supper was held for all members in February. We hope that sufficient interest will enable its continuation.

Outstanding Senior Band Brings

If you have happened to be walking along the gym corridor first period on a Monday, Wednesday, or Friday, you have probably heard strains of music ranging from "Come Sweet Death" to "Blue Tango" drifting from the stage door. This is what goes on behind the scenes every week during the school year. The concert band of 55 members spends most of its time rehearsing for concerts and assemblies.

Every Fall, the band elects its own slate of officers to help Mr. Lane during the coming school year.

This year began by organizing a Marching Band, separate from the Concert Band. He took in Junior and Senior High instrumental students who were interested in marching. Henry Barbeau, the capable leader and driller of the band, made sure that Le Roy Central was well represented at all the football games. The band, in its bright uniforms, brought more spirit to Le Roy High School than has been seen in a long time. Not only was the spirit unconquered on the football field, but also was a great addition to the many pep assemblies that were held in the fall.

This year, for the first time in the band's history, it had the honor of playing in October at

Many Fine Honors to Le Roy

Madison High for the Western New York Teachers' Convention. They had to do a lot of stiff and fast practice in a short time, but it was worth it for the many compliments the band received.

In November the band was well represented at the All-State Sectionals in Lancaster. Those who represented Le Roy were: Nancy Frost, Rose Pace, David Hayward, Bruce Ludlum.

Here these students had two rehearsals and ended up with the final concert on Saturday evening. The reasons for sending these students to sectionals is to give them the experience of playing difficult music with many accomplished instruments in a massed group.

For the first time this year, the band put on a Festival of Marches in December, enjoyed by the public.

The grand finale for the band's most successful year was the Genesee County Music Festival which was held in Le Roy. The Festival was held on April 24 and 25. Previous to the Music Festival, the County Mass Band and Chorus had a rehearsal. Our own band was well represented in the County Mass Band. Those who participated were Brian Bower, Henry Barbeau, Grace Fili, Bruce Ludlum, Bernadine Kunego, Barbara Brodie, Gary Johnston.

Musicians Get Start in Intermediate Band

Nancy Fischer, Nancy Frost, David Hayward, Gary Johnston, Bernadine Kunego, Rose Pace, David Parton, Fred Rindge, and Lewis Steverson. On Friday all ten of the county's school bands played for adjudication, adjudication done by Frederick Fennell from the Eastman School of Music. Also on Friday and Saturday there were over one-hundred soloists playing for adjudication. This year the concert band did the best that has ever been done by coming through with the highest rating of any of the county bands.

The 1953 Spring Music Festival came to a close Saturday evening when the Mass Chorus, String Ensemble, and the Mass Band put on their final concert. All three were highly praised and applauded, and I'm sure we all agree this year's was the most successful festival ever.

All the credit for such a successful year and music festival should go to our wonderful director of band and chorus, Mr. Lane.

Under the excellent direction of William T. Lane we find four choruses, which have been doing a great job this year. First let's look at the Mixed Chorus or the Oatkannaires, as they have been chosen to be called. The members are chosen at tryouts at the first of the year and anyone interested may try out. Mr. Lane also chooses the songs we sing which consisted this year of two spirituals, "Were You There?" and "Ride the Chariot," and a variety of other songs, including "The Blessing of St. Francis," "A Legend," and "Carousel Selection." Because of our name we have chosen our "Alma Mater" as a theme song.

At the Genesee County Music Festival, due to sickness, Mr. Lane was absent the day the choruses performed. Henry Barbeau, with only short notice, did a great job of directing with Louise Byers playing the piano. Among other appearances, the Oatkannaires have sung for the Le Roy Business Men's Association, the Rotary Club, and on Class Night.

Next we shall look at the Girls' Chorus, accompanied by Marie Baglio and consisting of about one hundred and fifty girls from ninth to twelfth grade who are interested in singing and improving the chorus as a whole. They have a chance to get a better understanding of music, from classical to religious to folk songs. In the way of religious pieces we have "Praise to the Lord," a Seventeenth Century German song, and "Mary Magdalene," from Marienluder Number Six by Brahms. Other numbers were "Wooden Shoes", from "Sweethearts" and "Summer Time," from "Porgy and Bess" by Gershwin.

Girls Chorus Provides Fine Harmony

Chorus means teamwork, which is the very idea of our chorus. In the last three years our Girls' Chorus has improved greatly and enjoys pleasing the public. The Spring Concert this year, consisting of only the choruses, was held the 22nd of March. The girls sang the numbers well and many remarks were heard praising the job our director has been doing.

The Boys' Chorus also sang at the Spring Concert. They sang two folk songs, one an Italian tune, "Marianna," and the other a Czechoslovakian number, "Walking at Night," enjoyed by everyone present. The Boys' Chorus is the smallest in number, but make up for their smallness in volume, and are the peppiest. It is a selective group all chosen at the first of the year as the members of the other choruses. Patricia accompanies them and they find singing a pleasant and interesting task.

and Cathanaires Combine both of these

Another group which made a fine showing at the festival was the seventh and eighth grade chorus. This group is quite new to Le Roy's music department. Always before the Seventh grade chorus and the eighth grade chorus have sung separately but now they are combined into one, making a fine group. Their talent was displayed at one of the school assemblies, when such songs as "At the Gate of Heaven," and "Alleluia", were sung.

When performing the girls of all choruses wear white blouses and dark skirts and the boys wear suits. This looks very neat and adds a professional touch.

A group of about twenty students also went to the State Sectionals at Lancaster, participating in the band, chorus or orchestra. This was a two day affair with four two-hour rehearsals which made for an excellent concert on the last night.

In Buffalo we had one student, Fred Trumbore singing at the New York State Conference. He did a fine job and added to the many things which should give all the students great pride in our choruses.

Football Squad Displays Perseverance

Le Roy's first game was with Amherst. Amherst scored late in the first period, and kept their lead at half time. Early in the third period Le Roy started to plow. Condidorio plunged over from the 3 to tie the score. Amherst scored in the last quarter to win 12 to 6.

The second game saw Le Roy travel to Caledonia. Quarterback Romey Lachnicht paced the Red and Black as he scored twice and passed to John Eppolito for another score. Le Roy scored again in the third period to make the score 13 all. In the closing seconds of the game Lachnicht went over from the 6 to give Le Roy a 19 to 13 win.

Next Le Roy journeyed to Medina. Sparked by Grant and Condidorio who each scored once, Le Roy led all the way and went on to win 13 to 6.

The Red and Black's next game was with Albion. Le Roy was first to score on Lachnicht's quarter-back sneak. Albion scored in the last quarter to win 7 to 6.

The next game was with West Seneca. The Red and Black scored when Condidorio plunged over from the 1. Later in the same period Tail-back Bob Grant broke loose for a 21 yard touchdown jaunt which gave Le Roy a 13 to 0 half-time lead. West Seneca came back in the second half to score twice and win 21 to 13.

Williamsville scored in the first half and then held off a fourth quarter Le Roy rally to polish off the Red and Black squad by 13 to 7 count. In the third quarter Bob Grant, Joe Con-didorio and John Eppolito spearheaded a fifty-yard touchdown march with Romey Lachnicht going over from the 1.

Next Le Roy forced East Aurora. The visitors scored early in the opening period to go ahead 7-0. In the next period East Aurora scored twice to lead at half time by a 20-0 score. In the last quarter Bob Grant ran 77 and 50 yards to score for Le Roy, but we still came out behind 27-14.

Our next and final game of the season was with our foes from the West, Batavia. In the first quarter Romey Lachnicht ran 60 yards to the 2 yard line where Bob Grant crashed over. In the third and fourth quarters John Eppolito and Lachnicht scored but Batavia, sparked by Bossler's three touchdowns, won 27 to 20.

Basketeers Barely Miss Sectionals

We opened with Holley and suffering the loss of only one of last years starting five, the prospects looked good. We soon found, however, that we lacked the necessary confidence and were easily downed by an experienced Holley five.

Our first league encounter was Medina on the new, shiny, hardwood of our Le Roy court. Medina's nervousness enabled us to gain an early advantage and go on to outscore them in every quarter. With this victory our sectional hopes soared.

Albion followed Medina in defeat the following week due greatly to the fantastic first half scoring by Sam Riggi. We had the sectionals at our finger tips with two league wins.

The trip to Batavia turned out to be a thriller. Batavia had the early lead up to half-time, then we found our eye and began to even things up. The score was tied with 25 seconds left, but Batavia edged us with a series of free throws.

When we again met Medina, we were out to clinch the league title. We started slow but passed them at half-time. The final minutes, however, told the tale. We were edged by two points. All was not lost, for a win over Albion would guarantee us a trip to the sectionals.

Albion, much to our sorrow, outclassed us all the way and the best we could hope for was a first place tie.

With two crucial losses behind us, determined, we faced Batavia. We exploded in the first period, outscoring our heavily favored opponents by 15 points, and didn't slow our amazing pace until the fourth quarter, when, with a lead of over 20 points, we put on an ineffective freeze and lost much of our advantage. When the final buzzer sounded we came out ahead and the Le Roy fans showered the team with gratitude.

The game split of the Albion, Medina series forced us into a play-off with Medina, at Brockport. In one of our poorest performances of the season, we were whipped by the sharp shooting Medina boys, thus ending our sectional hopes.

With Strobel looping 23 points, we finished the season, with a record of 7 wins and 8 losses, in an exciting point victory over Oakfield.

The season was in many respects disappointing, but with our resounding victory over Batavia it will not be remembered as completely unsuccessful.

Veteran Nine Aims for Spring Triumphs

In the springtime a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love, love of baseball that is, and this year is no exception.

Our team this year is made up of nine veterans, which should be a big help in winning their games. Perhaps some of the veterans will be displaced by some of the thirty-five candidates that turned out for the first call of baseball practice.

The very able Coach Mangefrida is putting the squad through daily drills in the hope of rounding out a good fielding and hitting team.

The team is well fortified by three veteran pitchers, Fran Ashley, John Holthaus and Gary Johnston. Good pitching is very important to the success of the team. With three pitchers who have had experience, if one has a bad day the others can come to the rescue. How these boys perform remains to be seen but it is hoped that they give the infielders and outfielders a minimum of work to do.

In the catching department we have Joe Cravotta and John Eppolito. These two are also veterans and their experience should be of great help. Both are good receivers and hitters.

At first, Danny Mooney's height is a big asset to reach those wild throws but he digs them out of the dirt too, and his hitting improves with every game.

Romey Lachnicht is holding down second base. He seems to be more at home there than he was at third last year. His hitting has improved as a result. Phil O'Geen is trying hard to take Romey's place at second. In any event it is good to have an extra with ability and determination just in case.

At third there are Ray Leach and Charlie Tabone, with Leach having the inside because he is a veteran. Tabone is ready, willing, and able, anytime the situation demands.

Bill Keefe and Phil Trudel are fighting it out for the shortstop position and again the veteran Keefe will no doubt get the major part of the work. His hitting will be a deciding factor, although Trudel swings a good bat.

The outfield will be comprised of Sid Smith, Dick Clark and Jack Fiorito, with John Eppolito helping out when he is not catching. These boys change about in the outfield and are at home in any one, left, center or right. Dick Clark wields a wicked bat and the boys are expecting him to hit some long ones.

Here is hoping the boys play the game they are capable of and that they emerge champions, however:

*"When that Great Scorer come to mark against your name
It matters not whether you won or lost
But how you played the game".*

Good luck fellows.

Future of Le Roy Athletics Lies in the

Our Junior Varsity opened their season with Batavia. Gary Leitner scored Le Roy's only touchdown, as Batavia won, 13-6.

For their second game the J. V.'s traveled to Clarence. The home team scored in the first quarter and the second quarter. Later in the first quarter Paladino dropped a pass from center in the end zone and fell on it. Clarence won 14-0.

Playing host to Brockport, the J. V.'s racked up their first victory. Paladino, Pattie, and Green took scoring honors as we won 19-0.

Medina was next on the list. Bob Fanning tackled a Medina man behind the goal for Le Roy's only score. Medina won 7-2.

Next the J. V.'s journeyed to Brockport for the second game of the year between the two teams. Don Miller scored Le Roy's lone touchdown as we took our fourth loss. 13-7.

Hands of These Junior Varsity Sportsmen

The J-V squad got off to a good start with two victories over Holley and Oakfield but soon met their match in the sharp setting Perry team.

This didn't seem to please them, however, for they went on to trounce their next three opponents, Honeoye Falls, Medina and Albion.

They traveled to Batavia the following week and were sorely beaten by our old rivals.

Still suffering from their Batavia loss they were nipped by Caledonia, but recovered sufficiently to out score Medina.

Albion with a poor record got the best of our boys by two points in their next encounter.

They dropped the next two games including the old foe Batavia and our rivals to the east, Caledonia.

After beating Holley on the home court they bowed to Perry in their succeeding engagement.

With a close win over Oakfield in their final match they ended the season on top with 8 wins and 7 losses.

Here the same Mr. Barone is caught in a different pose as he intently watches his junior varsity basketball team play before a home crowd. He is hemmed in on the left by an eager manager and on the right by a number of substitutes awaiting their chance.

Jay-Vee ball players learn rudiments

The middle of March found the Junior Varsity baseball team crowding the diamond, attempting to learn the fundamentals of the game. This year's team will have three veterans returning from last year. Larry Scinta and Joe Barone are two pitchers of whom much is expected. The only other returnee is first baseman, Sam Ianita. The other pitchers are Don Liberti and Joe Corcimiglia. The latter has shown much promise so far this spring. The outfield will be formed around Joe Frank, Augie Ianello, Joe Ianello, Leonard Ianello, and Tom Steffenella. The infielders are Ianita, Brian Niccloy, Sam Tabone, Don Paladino, and Sammy Corcimiglia. Coach Longhini will have to pick his starting catcher from Bill Boyd and Don Nielson. It will take a little work but a good team could be made from these boys. Coach Longhini will try to teach these boys the fundamentals so they will become future varsity material.

The camera has now recorded Mr. Longhini in still another of his activities as he discusses the finer points of baseball with members of the junior varsity nine. Mr. Longhini's enthusiasm and training make him a valuable mentor in all of the athletic activities in which Le Roy teams participate.

DESCRIBE Le Roy to a stranger. Tell him of the many things that make "Le Roy a Good Place to Live." The modern school system . . . attractive homes . . . fine churches . . . the postoffice . . . library . . . theatre . . . auditorium and recreation center . . . the clubs and fraternal organizations . . . busy main street . . . five railroads . . . the top notch industries. Mention the neighborliness, civic pride and team work that make Le Roy hum; all this in a beautiful rural setting. The stranger will find this hard to believe.

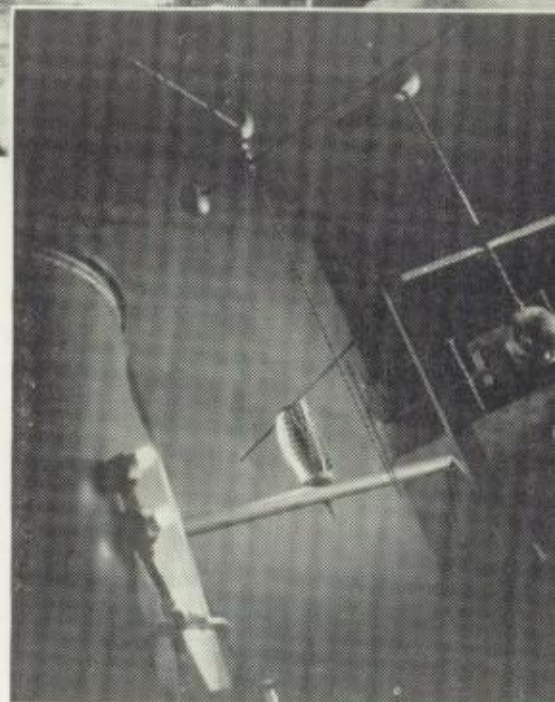

THIRTY-FIVE years ago Lapp Insulator came to Le Roy. Like the stranger, they found it hard to believe. But, impressed, they decided here was the place to build their plant. Today, Lapp men and women enjoy the satisfaction of seeing products of their manufacture shipped all over the world, supplying the needs of the armed forces, the electrical, chemical and radio industries . . .

Products like insulators to control and support transmission lines carrying high-voltage electricity from its source to homes and factories miles away . . . Porcelain insulators tested for strengths up to 3,500,000 pounds, to support radio transmitter towers as high as 1200 feet . . .

Pumps, valves and piping for handling corrosive chemicals so necessary for the manufacture of drugs, fabrics, plastics and other items of everyday life. And Lapp, like Le Roy, has many advantages to the citizen. Company life insurance, hospitalization, surgical and pensions are free to all employees. Paid vacations, holidays and advancement are important extras at Lapp.

Modern equipment and processes speed and ease the work. Safe, clean conditions in bright, airy surroundings contribute to the health and safety of employees.

This, with continuing research for new and improved products and markets, good employee-management relations plus, a mutual respect and pride in company, product and home town, make "Lapp a Good Place to Work."

Everyone is familiar with the fable of the dog that, in trying to get the bone reflected in the water, dropped the one in his mouth. Yet today, there are many of us who are ready to drop individual enterprise for the promised "security" of the welfare state. Never in history has government-planned economy built a standard of living anywhere near comparable to our own. The American way of life was built by free people working in a free economy . . . free to choose their occupation . . . free to invest the rewards of their labors as they saw fit . . . with the help and not at the command of government.

Edmund Burke, statesman and champion of the rights of man, in 1784 said, "The people never give up their liberties but under some delusion".

This agricultural implement agency has been serving area farmers for the past 16 years. World famous Minneapolis Moline Tractors are sold and serviced by competent agents. A complete line of New Idea farm equipment along with Iron Age and Ontario quality products are handled. Le Roy, as any other community, depends a great deal on agricultural interests, and Paul and Wansor has served its interests in a way that is typical of the conscientious American businessman.

In Appreciation

And so another O-At-Kan has taken its place along side the yearbooks which the senior classes of Le Roy have been publishing for the past twenty-five years.

It is well to note that this publication is the result of the combined efforts of a large number of people in addition to those who are actually members of the school. Primarily we are thankful to the advertisers whose names appear in this section, for without their contributions no such book would be possible. We ask you to patronize them whenever the occasion arises. We should also like to express our appreciation to the Gazette-News for their unfailing advice and cooperation. Finally we should like to mention Moser Studios who have done all the portrait work in the book.

We apologize to all faculty members for the disturbances we have caused and extend our thanks for their never-failing cooperation.
